

Optoma DC455

Portable Document Camera

Optoma's DC455 takes a live workspace and allows you to distribute real-time image capture to large audiences when combined with any big screen technology.

Sharing video content remotely has never been easier, simply connect to any one of the video conferencing tools (via a PC) to enable sharing with remote audiences. The folding arm design allows complete versatility and is perfect for any environment doubling up as a high-performance webcam when needed.
